After singing at one of his 2019 concerts, David Haas asked to treat me to dinner and drinks with a few other concert attendees and parish "hosts." He touched my knee throughout the meal, and grabbed my backside as part of his goodbye hug. At the same time, he quietly invited me to join him (alone) in his hotel room, and offered to pay for hotel parking if I needed it. I made excuses and left. He made me very uncomfortable that evening and long afterwards, texting me suggestively at odd intervals, most recently on March 9th, 2020.
